

FANATIC ATTEMPTS TO TAKE LIFE OF J. P. MORGAN

FINANCIER IS SHOT TWICE BY FORMER CORNELL INSTRUCTOR

BOTH BULLETS TAKE EFFECT IN HIP—INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

Assailant Confesses to Setting Bomb Which Exploded in National Capitol—Asserts He Went to See Morgan About Ending European War.

GLENCOWE, N. Y., July 3.—Frank Holt, former Cornell University instructor, today attempted to assassinate J. P. Morgan at East Isle, Mr. Morgan's summer home near here. Tonight Holt confessed that he was the man who set the bomb which exploded in the United States Capitol at Washington last night. Mr. Morgan was said by specialists in attendance to be resting easily tonight. No vital organ, physicians announced, had been involved in his injuries, which consisted of two bullet wounds.

Stamp Holt as an Expert.
Police asserted tonight that by his confession and detailed description of the bomb used in blowing up the Capitol, Holt was an expert in the use of explosives. Following his confession, the chief of police of Washington, a squad of secret service operatives and New York detectives and finger print experts were summoned to Glencowe. The belief was prevalent that Holt had been connected with other bomb outrages which have baffled the police. Chief among these was the discovery recently of bomb in the grounds of Andrew Carnegie's Fifth Avenue residence in New York city.

Both Bullets Penetrated Hip.
At eleven o'clock it was definitely learned for the first time the exact nature of Mr. Morgan's injury. A statement was made at that hour that both bullets fired by Holt had penetrated Mr. Morgan's hip and that neither entered the abdomen as had been rumored. The first struck right hip and went through in a line almost horizontal, deflecting slightly downward. The second shot struck nearer the groin and was deflected more sharply downward. This shot came out of the upper leg.

Holt is an American citizen, native born, about 35 years old and educated far above the average. He had been a student at Cornell and later was an instructor in French at that institution, according to his statement. The records show however he taught German. Next fall he expected to be head of the French department at the southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas. His wife, the daughter of O. F. Sensabaugh, presiding elder of the Dallas district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, is with her father in Dallas. To her tonight Holt addressed a telegram telling her that man proposed but God disposed, and bidding her be brave.

Holt Close to Exhaustion.
Tonight Holt was a wreck, in a state of almost complete collapse. The quantity of blood he had lost from a terrific blow on the head—a blow that knocked him unconscious as he grappled with Mr. Morgan and his butler on the floor of a hallway in the Morgan home—was great and the strain told on him during the afternoon. He slumped back in a corner in his cell, breathing hard and apparently comatose. Apparently he was close to exhaustion and the wound over his eye was bothering him.

"Didn't you have an accomplice?" he was asked tonight.
"No," he muttered weakly. "None whatever. I did the whole thing myself. I planned it. I executed it. Nobody knew anything about it but myself."
"Didn't you have an accomplice in the setting of the bomb at Washington?" the detective persisted.
"I tell you," he replied, "I didn't. Neither at Washington nor Glencowe."

"Do you think you are crazy?" he was asked.
"I don't know," he replied. "Sometimes I do. Sometimes I don't. I have been trying for six months to convince myself of one of two things either that am crazy or that I am not. And I haven't been able to settle the question yet."
Holt was overpowered by Morgan and Henry Fiske, the butler, who grappled with him in the hallway.

He was locked up in jail here and from his cell issued a written statement saying that he had intended no harm to Mr. Morgan, but had come to Glencowe to persuade the banker to stop the shipment abroad of munitions of war. He went into the Morgan home, he said, with a pistol in his hand and a stick of dynamite in his pocket, intending to remain there until Mr. Morgan "did something."

Another loaded pistol was found in Holt's pocket and more dynamite was in a suitcase, which he had taken to the Morgan house. In addition there were numerous newspaper clippings in the suit case all bearing on the European war.

An authoritative statement of the shooting was obtained here late today after many conflicting reports had been circulated. This statement is as follows:

Covers Butler with Pistol.
Holt called at the Morgan home at 9 o'clock while Mr. Morgan and Mrs. Morgan were at breakfast. Fiske, the butler, answered Holt's ring at the door. Holt handed the butler his card, telling him to inform Mr. Morgan it was from a friend. As the butler started back through the hallway Holt slipped a pistol from his pocket and pressed it against the butler's stomach.

"See this gun," he demanded. "I have another one."

The butler, pressed by the muzzle of the weapon, backed into the hallway, Holt following.

Holt continued to press the butler backward down the hallway toward the dining room. As they neared the dining room door, the butler spoke.

"Upstairs, Mr. Morgan, upstairs," he shouted.

Come Down Front Stairs.
Alarmed by shout Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador to the United States who was an overnight guest at the Morgan home, left the dining room by another door, entered the rear hallway and went upstairs. They found nothing amiss there and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan started back using the front stairway. Unwittingly they walked almost into the would-be assassin's arms. Mrs. Morgan saw him first, screamed and drew back.

Holt turned and fired twice before Mr. Morgan could seize him. Fiske, the butler, no longer menaced by the pistol, grabbed Holt's right hand. Mr. Morgan threw himself on his assailant and the three men went down in a struggling heap.

The struggle on the floor was short. The pistol was torn from Holt's fingers and he was beaten by the butler and other servants, who came running at the sound of the shots, until he offered no further resistance. Then the Glencowe police and a physician were summoned.

Mr. Morgan Walks Calmly.
Mr. Morgan walked calmly and collectedly, feeling, he said, that he had been shot, but experiencing no sensation of weakness, up the stairs and went to the telephone. He called up the doctor and afterward his office in New York city and told the story of the shooting, asserting that he did not regard his wounds as serious. Then he went to his bed and lay down, awaiting the doctor.

After he lay down, Mr. Morgan notified his mother at Utica, N. Y., by long distance telephone that he had been shot and told her not to worry as he did not consider his injury serious.

Holt was locked in a cell in the jail here. For more than an hour he declined to give his name or say anything about himself. Finally he became talkative and told Justice of Peace William E. Luyster that he had gone to see Mr. Morgan about ending the European war and that Mr. Morgan had not given him a chance to say anything.

"They tell me I hit him. I hope he is not badly hurt."

Loss of Blood Weakens Prisoner.
Late today Holt was arraigned before Justice Luyster on a charge of assault with intent at malicious killing. The prisoner was brought from his cell into the court house with a white bandage around his head, through which a darkened stain above a cut on the forehead. He appeared to have been weakened by the loss of blood and tottered as he stood before the justice.

"You are charged," said Justice Luyster, "with assault with intent at malicious killing. How do you wish to plead?"

"Take out all that about malicious killing," Holt replied. "It oughtn't to be there."

Justice Luyster informed the prisoner that the wording of the charge was according to the local code. Postpone Hearing Until Wednesday. Finally Holt said he pleaded not guilty. He appeared undecided whether he wanted a preliminary examination. Assistant District Attorney Weeks stepped forward while Holt appeared to be making up his mind and told the court he would like to ask for a postponement of all further proceedings until next Wednesday. This was granted, Holt being held without bail in the meantime.

Set Bomb in Capitol.
Holt is the man who set the bomb that exploded in the United States Capitol at Washington last night.

In a statement made to Justice Luyster and Thomas Tunney, head of the bomb and anarchist squad of the New York City detective bureau, Holt confessed setting the bomb and described it in detail.

As a missile of terror it was said to be unique in the annals of the New York police department.

"I made this bomb," Holt is quoted as having said in his confession, "with three sticks of dynamite, some match heads and a bottle of sulphuric acid. I took three sticks of dynamite and bound them together. Then I took my knife and hollowed out a place in one of the sticks. When I had cleaned it out deep enough I put some match heads into the hole."

Tells of Timing Bomb.
"Then I took a little bottle of sulphuric acid out of my pocket and put a regular cork in the neck. I turned the bottle upside down and fastened the cork in the whole in the dynamite just above the match heads. When the acid reached the match heads it set them on fire and caused the explosion. There wasn't any guesswork about it. I knew how much time I had, so I hung around while the acid was eating its way through the cork. I said to myself that it ought to be going pretty soon. And sure enough it did go pretty soon. Then I hurried away."

Holt's confession of the Capitol outrage came fast on the heels of his denial to the newspaper men of the same charge. He told the reporters he was not in Washington yesterday. He said he was walking around the streets in New York trying to make up his mind to come out to Glencowe and "do his duty."

Timed Explosion for Midnight.
According to Holt's confession, he went to Washington from New York yesterday, arriving there about noon. He went to the Capitol during the afternoon and set the bomb at 4 o'clock. He had timed the explosion at midnight. After setting the bomb he strolled about Washington for several hours. In the evening he went to the Union station, a few blocks from the Capitol, and waited several hours for the noise of the explosion, which he knew would occur soon.

"I had two or three sticks of dynamite left over that I didn't need on the Washington job," he explained, "so I brought them along to Glencowe and intended to use them here if I had to."

"Why did you want to blow up the Capitol?" Captain Tunney asked him.

"Well," Holt replied, "I thought that was a good way to bring the attention of the American people to the terrible murders being committed in Europe."

Find Names on Paper.
Holt's assertion that he was familiar with one of the rarest methods of exploding dynamite, a method which Captain Tunney said was used so seldom as to be almost unknown, strengthened the impression that the prisoner was gifted with knowledge far beyond what he had seen fit to display in the earlier stages of his questioning. And so they went through his pockets again. They found a scrap of paper on which were written the names of Junius Spencer (Mr. Morgan's oldest son), Jane Norton Drew, Francis Tracy and Henry Sturgess.

Immediately below the name of Junius Spencer was written, "Camp Uncers, Hamilton county, New York."
"There is not much doubt in my mind," said Justice Luyster, "that the writing on this scrap of paper fitted in with Holt's plan to end the European war. Whether he determined to try his pistol and dynamite methods on the persons whose names are on the paper is something we have not yet determined."

Thought Deeply on the War.
Dallas, Texas, July 3.—Frank Holt of Dallas, who now is believed by his wife and her family here to be the man held in Glencowe, N. Y., for shooting J. P. Morgan, was described here tonight by his father.

War News Summarized

An attempt against the life of J. P. Morgan, head of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents of the British government, and the explosion of a bomb in the Capitol building at Washington are two of the dramatic incidents growing out of the European war.

Mr. Morgan's assailant, Frank Holt, an American and a teacher of languages, confessed that he was responsible for the explosion in the Capitol building.

It is officially announced from Paris that General Gouraud, commander of the French expeditionary force at the Dardanelles, has been slightly wounded and is returning to France.

The German admiralty admits the loss of the mine layer Albross in a recent engagement with Russian cruisers in the Baltic sea.

The Austrians and Germans continue their impetuous drive against the forces of Emperor Nicholas along a front measuring approximately 150 miles in southern Russian Poland and in Galicia.

Petrograd admits the retirement of the Russians across the Gnila Lipa and explains that the retrograde movement further to the north was caused by strong flanking operations of the Austro-Germans against the Russian positions in the Tanev region, making them untenable. Russian military experts profess to believe that the Galician campaign now is ended. Fighting on the western front has been especially severe in Argonne forest, where the German crown prince is in command of the Teutonic forces. The French assert that they have inflicted heavy losses on the Germans.

From Berlin comes the admission that the Germans have been forced to give up the gains made by them in the Vosges.

In the Italian theater of operations the Italians claim to be making slow but steady gains. In the Dardanelles the Turks claim to have beaten off renewed attacks of the Anglo-French forces.

German submarine activity in the war zone around the British Isles has accounted for five more British steamers and one Belgian vessel, aggregating 19,275 tons gross.

A Russian submarine in the Black sea sank two Turkish steamers and a sailing ship, carrying provisions and coal and later engaged and drove around three armed schooners near the mouth of the Bosphorus.

In-law, O. F. Sensabaugh, as a man who had "thought deeply on the European war" and who was opposed to all war and strife.

"He never advocated violence however," said Mr. Sensabaugh. "Frank was born in Wisconsin. I can't remember the name of the town. He was of German descent and was closely associated with the German element at Cornell and naturally his sympathies were with Germany, but above all he desired peace."

Mr. Sensabaugh is presiding elder of the Dallas district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, with headquarters here.

Attributes Act to Temporary Insanity.
"Temporary insanity must have caused the deed," said Mr. Sensabaugh. "Frank has overworked himself fearfully this summer, preparing for his duties this fall," he said.

Mr. Holt was to become head of the romance department of French at the Southern Methodist University here, which opens its doors for the first time this fall.

Told that the New York police said Holt had confessed to setting the bomb which wrecked a room in the national Capitol last night Mr. Sensabaugh exclaimed: "Oh, that can't be true."

Mrs. Holt Receives Telegram.
Mrs. Holt today received the telegram from Glencowe, which press dispatches said Holt had sent her. With her two children, one two years old and the other only eight months, she spent the afternoon secluded in Mr. Sensabaugh's home, where they have been residing pending the arrival here of Holt.

Holt is widely known in educational circles in the southwest. He graduated from Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, Texas, and has taught in Texas and Oklahoma besides other southern states. He was regarded as wealthy.

He was a member of the faculty of the University of Oklahoma in 1909 and 1910, going from there to Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

CHICAGO WINS MEET.

Chicago, July 3.—The Chicago Athletic association won the annual senior track and field championship meet of the Central Amateur Athletic Union today gaining a total of 89 points to 72 by the Illinois Athletic club, which won second place.

HUERTA IS RE-ARRESTED AND LODGED IN JAIL

FIVE OTHER MEXICANS ARE TAKEN IN CUSTODY IN EL PASO

Orozo Escapes From His Home—Officials Believe He Succeeded in Crossing the Boundary Into Mexico.

El Paso, July 3.—General Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, was lodged in the county jail late today. Incarcerated with him were Ignacio Bravo and Eduardo Carus, former Mexican federal generals, General Jose Delgado, J. B. Ratner and Enrique Gorostiza. Huerta had been re-arrested and the other five taken into custody on federal warrants issued at San Antonio charging conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws of the United States by attempting to launch a new revolution in Mexico. Failure to procure bond of $15,000 each resulted in their imprisonment.

The hearing for the six men was set for July 12th, the date on which General Huerta is under another bond of $15,000 to appear before George B. Oliver, United States commissioner, on similar charges previously filed by federal officers in El Paso.

Orozo Escapes From Home.
The developments of the afternoon overshadowed the discovery today that General Pascual Orozo had escaped from his home here, where he had been under vigil and military guard. Although diligent search was continued all day, no trace of Orozo was found and tonight it was generally believed that he had succeeded in crossing the boundary into Mexico.

Fearing Huerta Might Escape.
Washington, July 3.—General Victoriano Huerta was re-arrested today at El Paso by agents of the department of justice it became known here tonight, to prevent the possibility that he might follow the footsteps of Pascual Orozo who apparently has forfeited his bond in escaping the espionage of federal agents.

The war department has authorized General Funston to imprison General Huerta at Fort Bliss if the former dictator were re-arrested today and in view of the sympathetic display in El Paso toward Huerta, the possibility of his removal to another city distant from the border was under consideration tonight.

Asks For Extradition.
General Carganzo through Eliseo Arredondo, his representative here, has asked for the extradition of General Huerta and other prominent Mexicans, but it was indicated tonight in official quarters that no action would be taken on this application or on the one received from the Villa governor of the state of Chihuahua.

Conditions in Mexico City are still critical, according to such meager advices as have been received.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN TO GUARD THE PRESIDENT

Wilson Expresses Pleasure When Told Morgan's Wounds Are Not Expected to Prove Serious.

Cornish, N. H., July 3.—President Wilson expressed pleasure tonight when told that J. P. Morgan's wounds were not expected to prove serious. The shooting of Mr. Morgan and the explosion in the Capitol were the chief topics of discussion about the summer White House tonight. The president was informed early of the confession of the man who had shot Mr. Morgan that he had also placed the bomb in the Capitol.

Extra precautions were taken by secret service men today to guard the president. The attack upon Mr. Morgan and the explosion in Washington served to make the president's guards more alert. Several secret service men are now on duty here and another is on his way to join them. While no particular fear is felt that an attack on the president might be attempted, it was thought best to take every precaution until all circumstances of the attack on Mr. Morgan and the bomb incident were known. The news that both were the work of one man relieved tension among the president's guards tonight.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE ISSUES CROP BULLETIN

Cool Weather and Heavy Rains Bring Average Down to 84 Per Cent of Normal—Winter Wheat in Excellent Condition.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—The wheat crop, owing to cool weather and heavy rains, averages 84 per cent of normal, according to a bulletin issued today by the state board of agriculture. Several counties in the northern division report damage from cutworms and a dozen counties report chinch bugs, which caused such heavy damage to crops last year. Winter wheat is in excellent condition, especially in the northern part of the state, and a large crop is indicated.

The condition of oats on June 20 was the best in years, 99 per cent of normal, which is 38 points better than the June 20 condition of last year.

The condition of rye on June 20 was 94 per cent of normal, being 96 per cent in northern Illinois, 97 per cent in central Illinois and 89 per cent in the south division.

There is a decrease of 5 per cent in the area of meadows as compared with 1914. The June 20 was 90 per cent of normal, which is 26 points better than a year ago at this time.

The area of pastures is 96 per cent, as compared with 1914. Their June 20 condition is 96 per cent of normal, 25 per cent better than on June 20 of last year.

The condition of alfalfa in northern Illinois on June 20 was 100 per cent of normal, in central Illinois 96 per cent and in southern Illinois 97 per cent. The prospect for a big yield of alfalfa is encouraging, but the peach crop will be light. The condition of small fruit is reported to be the best in years.

LONE BANDIT ROBS QUINCY BANK AND MAKES ESCAPE

Compels Teller and President to Throw up their Hands While He Scooped Bundles of Currency into His Pocket.

Quincy, Ill., July 3.—With a score of people within calling distance a robber at 9 o'clock tonight entered the Broadway Bank and at the point of a revolver commanded the teller and president to throw up their hands while he scooped bundles of currency totaling between $200 and $400 off the counter into his coat pocket.

After making the haul the man walked backwards to the street and jumped on a bicycle. Fear of taking the lives of pedestrians prompted the teller not to shoot and the robber made good his escape.

The police believe that he had an accomplice waiting with an automobile a short distance from where the robbery was committed.

There is no clue to the whereabouts of the bandit. Officers of the bank were checking up preparatory to closing when the robber entered and has just placed over $1,000 in the safe. About $300 in bills remained on the counter.

TRAIN PLUNGES THROUGH TRESTLE THREE PERSONS ARE KILLED

TACOMA, Wash., July 3.—Three persons are dead and two are believed to be dying in Tacoma hospitals as a result of a wreck today when a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train from Tacoma, Abner, plunged off a trestle near Hater.

A Northern Pacific freight train has passed under the trestle shortly before the accident and a crane which extended from the side of a car weakened the bridge so that it collapsed.

RUSSIAN DEFEAT SEEMS INEVITABLE

Vienna and Berlin State- ments Chronicle Nothing But Successes

British Papers State Offensive in West Alone Will Compel Withdrawal of Men from East

FRENCH RE-TAKE POSITION

LONDON, July 3.—Although the retreating Russian armies must be considered to be virtually intact, the growing impetus of the Austro-German advance is such that a decisive Russian defeat seems inevitable, according to military experts, unless the entente powers initiate a powerful diversion on the Italian or the western front. Some of the most conservative British newspapers assert that this alone can compel Germany to withdraw men from the eastern theater, leaving perhaps a sudden shortage in high explosives, the supply of which will flow to the front more irregularly as the railways become less and less available.

Teutons Chronicle Successes.
Neither to the north of Lemberg nor to the southeast do the Russians appear to be trying to offer serious resistance, but unless the approaches to Warsaw are to be left unprotected military observers say the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, must soon do some stubborn fighting over the southern Poland frontier, while his extreme left in Galicia must match this in rapid retirement if it is to avoid a critical predicament. Today's official statements from Vienna and Berlin chronicle nothing but successes for their arms. Again reports are current that the Germans are moving fresh forces west, but these reports have been intermittently circulated ever since the fall of Przemyśl and will not bear analysis.

Friday's battle in the Baltic has simmered down to an encounter in what the Germans alleged were Swedish territorial waters, between Russian cruisers and a German mine layer.

Casualties on the mine layer and the subsequent beaching of that vessel are officially admitted in Berlin.

British Front Quiet.
The British front in Flanders remains remarkably quiet, a fact which may presage some important movement on either side. The French and Germans are at grips again in the Argonne region and elsewhere. The French are now using a deadly gas, according to German claims, and have retaken a position on the so-called Hilgen ridge in the Vosges.

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY NOW HAS SLIGHT CHANCE FOR RECOVERY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 3.—N 10 o'clock tonight the following bulletin was issued from the bedside of Archbishop Quigley of Chicago:

"There has been practically no change in the archbishop's condition. The slight improvement noted yesterday has been maintained."

The archbishop was able to take some nourishment during the day but was conscious and spoke a few words to those at his bedside. Physicians say now there is a slight chance for his recovery.

The serious situation in the Chicago building trades has all been brought about because of the refusal of the contractors to pay the carpenters an advance of a few cents per hour for their labor. Practically all lumber yards, brick yards, planing mills, etc. have closed down and thousands of men who have no direct connection with the strike are thrown out of employment. A statistician has figured that the daily loss in wages under present conditions is a million and half dollars. The carpenters may or may not be right in their contention for more wages but that is not the question. Certainly some better way of settling the matter should be found than involving all the building trades and occasioning so much loss to innocent men.

The great war in Europe has been going on for more than a year. Early in the conflict people were stunned almost by reports of the battle losses. Now a newspaper window bulletin about the attempt on the life of one American attracts far more attention than a dispatch telling of the sinking of a ship or the loss of thousands of soldiers in battle. This lessening interest in the European conflict was reflected in the Jacksonville public libraries' report this month by the statement that whereas the "Life of Bismarck" in five volumes was continuously in circulation a few months ago, with reserve orders on file, now the books are uninterruptedly on the shelves.

NOT THE TIME TO CHANGE GOVERNMENT PLAN.

The petitions through which it is the expectation of Jacksonville returning to the aldermanic form of government will be submitted to the voters were in circulation yesterday. On the basis of the returns of the last municipal election it will be necessary to secure only about 1500 signatures and as the total registration of voters, both men and women, shows nearly 9,000 names, it seems entirely likely that a sufficient number will be secured to require an election upon the question. In the primary election at which candidates for mayor and city commissioners were chosen, the Journal made no endorsements, having the feeling that out of so large a list of candidates it would be the part of wisdom to leave the whole question to the people without suggestion or endorsement. In the election proper no more than five fit men could be selected from the list of nominations. The present situation, however is somewhat difficult and while the commission form of government has not accomplished for Jacksonville all that its strongest advocates hoped for, fairness it seems demands that the present city officials, who have now been in office only two months, should be given a chance to see what they can accomplish for the betterment of Jacksonville's municipal affairs.

When the present mayor and commissioners entered upon their duties they frankly stated that they did not contemplate any radical action; that they were not familiar with the affairs of the various city departments and that they wished to become more acquainted with municipal facts before stating just what they hoped to do. The same policy was announced in the matter of appointments—none were made until the officers had been in power a month. Still others were made but a few days ago, and in most instances the men in the employ of the city before the present officials took charge are still at work. Soon after assuming office there was some talk of reducing the salaries of all employees a small percent as a matter of economy, with the assurance that the salaries would be paid each month. But later it was determined that the salaries would not be disturbed. No mention has thus far been made in any council meeting of the salaries to be drawn by the mayor and commissioners themselves and it is fair to assume that the officers have not yet determined about their own salaries and certainly no salaries have been drawn by them. The sentiment of the people is that the present salary schedule is too much and that mayor and commissioners should not draw such salaries, unless they devote all of their time to the duties of office. A salary of $2000 for a mayor and $1700 for each commissioner is in excess of the wishes of the people as generally expressed and the present council has thus far given no definite reason for the belief that the salary schedule is not to be reduced.

The present officers were chosen to serve four years, and certainly it is not fair to assume that on the basis of two months' service they are going to make a failure of this administration. It would not be reasonable to commend them greatly after two months, and certainly not enough time has elapsed whereby one can judge with justice whether or not the commission form with the present five executive officers will be successfully or unsuccessfully administered. The present council members had made no definite statement as to their expectations with reference to the further development of the municipal light plant, no statement as to their intentions about improvement of the water department, no statement of their attitude toward street paving and other public improvements, other than to say that they wished to carry out the desires of the property owners; yet the very talk of the possibility of a return to the old form of government will be sufficient to stop any improvements that have been in contemplation. In fact, the present council is now in such position that it cannot undertake any forward work. The city's affairs are tied up, at least for a few months until it can be definitely determined whether the present form of government is to remain or the old, it is entirely likely that enough signatures will be secured to make it the legal duty of the council to call an election to vote upon the question. It is true that as a general proposition the people should have the right to vote upon any question that they want to, but it is probable that a great many people will sign the petition for the proposed election without understanding just exactly what it means. If the required signatures are secured and at a subsequent election the majority of the people voting decide in favor of the abolishment of the commission form, it will mean that Jacksonville will be under just exactly the same condition of government that existed before the new form became effective. It will mean that mayor and aldermen will be nominated and elected on a party basis. It will mean a return to minority representation—that in each of the four wards three aldermen will be chosen, and that in at least three wards that whoever happens to be nominated as the minority representative will be certain of election. To get rid of minority representation in city government was one argument in favor of the commission form which made many votes for the change. The general tendency of the times has been to confine party politics to state and national affairs and to obliterate them as much as possible from municipalities, and this argument won many supporters for the commission form.

No doubt there will be a great many supporters for the proposed change who will forget all about the arguments originally advanced for the commission form. People usually, and in Jacksonville seemingly in particular, are always ready for a change, and that very fact gives color to the belief that the necessary signatures for calling the election will be secured. But after the election called there will come some time for reflection, and both men and women can then consider whether or not the old form has anything in its history to show particular advantage over the new form. They will think of the disadvantage of minority representation; they will ask whether or not the men now in office are in character and ability the equal of men who have previously served as city officers. They will question whether any city can go forward or accomplish much where there is continual turmoil and disagreement. They will recognize that a city with a treasury showing a floating debt of $45,000 and seventy-five per cent of the taxes available in 1916 already expended presents no very attractive possibilities for any new set of officials.

It has been often and truly said that good city government is not a question of form but a question of men. It is possible to have good city government under the aldermanic form and it is possible to have good city government under the commission form. The only question is that of electing honest, competent men to fill the offices. If the city returns to the aldermanic form are the chances good that a mayor and board of twelve aldermen will be chosen superior in character and qualifications for service to the five men now holding office?

Would it not be more reasonable to suspend judgment of the present administration until they have been in office for a year at least?

MAVERICKS

Welcome, welcome, old July, month of sunshine and blue sky; virtues you have many score, also some things we deplore. You usher in the chicken fry and burgoo soup, dear old July. Picnics you bring to us galore, and then we scratch our shin-bones sore from chiggers and mosquito bites, while flies in millions on us light, as we 'neath the shade trees lie and ponder your faults, dear old July! With all your faults we love you still, for at eve you bring the whippoorwill and doves in waving fields of grain, that soo as soft as summer rain. With your bright sunshine and blue sky we love you best, dear old July.

Some time ago the government turned over the making of the weather for this section of the country to Chicago. Chicago is not doing well on the job. Almost anybody could make better weather than that we have been served with of late. If the weather man cannot do any better than that we had better get up a petition and have our weather made in Washington again.

It is easy to predict the weather these days. Just write the line, "Probably showers today." That will hit it.

It only requires 25 per cent of the vote cast for mayor to get a vote on changing to the old aldermanic form of government. On that basis there seems to be nearly enough disappointed office seekers to fill up the petition.

Here is one from Ed. Beird of the Bluffs Times. We didn't think it of him, either. Evidently his wife is not a suffragette:

"You can't just always tell what a woman will do in these days. Miss Celestia Mudd of Singletree, O., traveled all the way to Doubtree, Kas., to marry Cyrus Moore. What a combination—Moore Mudd, and in these days of deluges

Three Sharps Make a Flat.

Mrs. E. Sharp's story of discord in a flat with Henry G. Sharp won her a divorce in Judge Shopen's court yesterday. The Sharp flat at 2134 Orchard street lost its provider, she testified, when she announced to her husband their scale of living soon would be circumscribed by the addition of a third Sharp, it is alleged. Then Mr. Sharp, it is alleged, played several bars and decided to finish his domestic sonata in two flats.

Quite So.

We omitted to include in our mention of the Hobbs family reunion in our last issue, the name of Supt. H. ("Doc") Taylor of Missouri, who is a brother of Mrs. Hobbs and a former well-known resident of this place. Mr. Taylor has not visited his old home very frequently and he is yet with us, meeting many old associates and renewing former friendships. He will likely return this week.

Probably Someone Paid Subscription

We may be a little short on news this week, but then we are long on other things—this ought to even up things.

Exciting Times.

July 3 will be a great day in Atterberry. Ice cream will be served from 1 o'clock until 11 p. m. and a good musical program will be rendered. Everybody invited. Proceeds for the Baptist church.

Definite Location.

Grace Daigh discontinued her millinery sale and closed her store now in the rear of the hotel Saturday, removing the stock and fixtures Monday.

An exchange says that George Fitch has exhausted all the humor in Peoria and has gone back to Galva. To exhaust all the humor in Peoria would be impossible. If you don't believe it, ask V. Kee Maxwell. He writes a column of funny stuff for the Peoria Journal every day and doesn't have to exert himself, either.

Three thousand persons attended the wedding of Champ Clark's daughter. Despite the large attendance, we don't remember seeing Mr. Bryan's name among those present.

Some one over in Pike county advertises Bourbon Red turkeys. That color is not as popular in Jacksonville as it was a few years ago.

Gene Debs says he would be shot for a traitor before he would go to war for any nation. Gene might form an alliance with Mr. Bryan, who apparently is in the same frame of mind.

Generals are as numerous in Mexico these days as Colonels used to be in Kentucky.

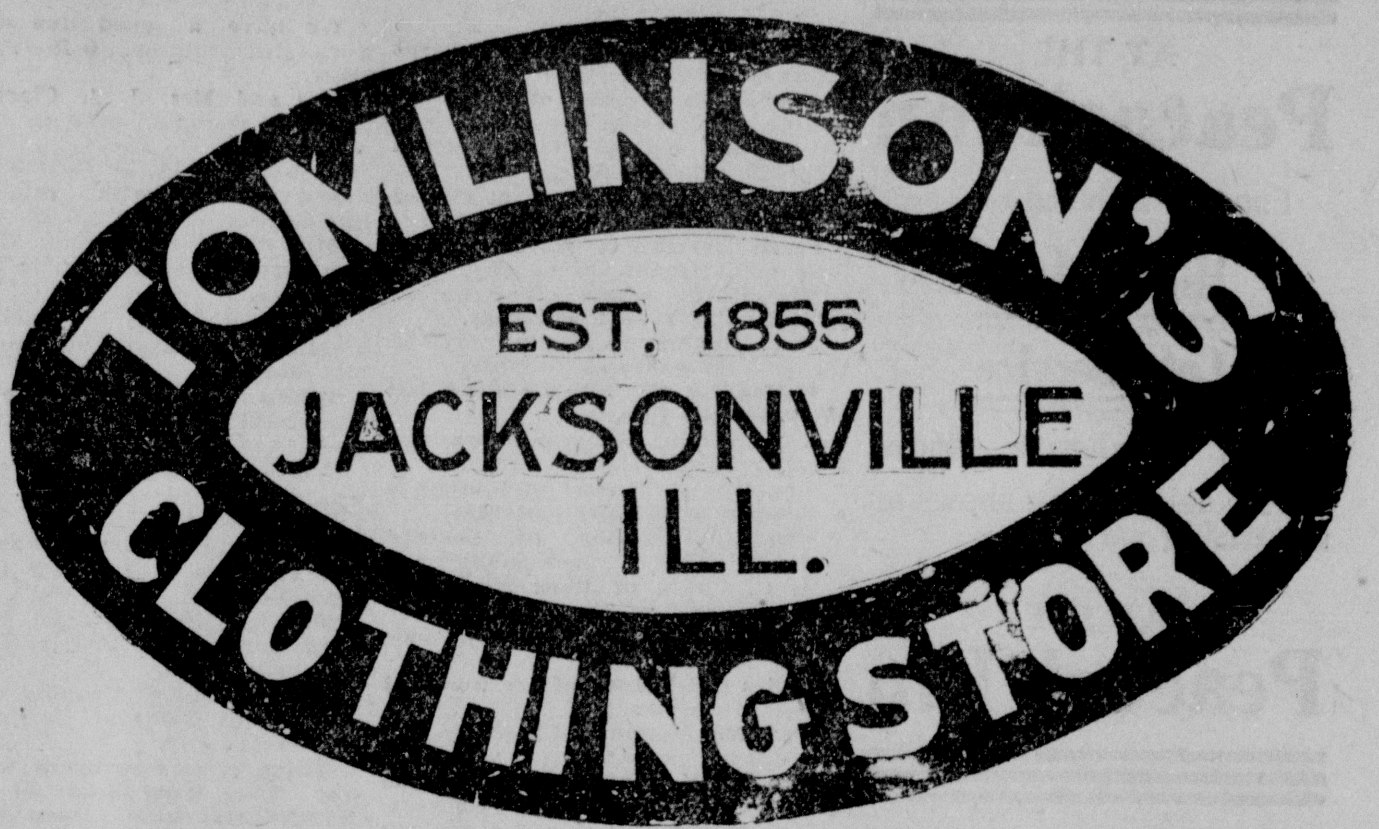

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Grace Church will meet Tuesday, July 6th at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Baxter, 820 W. College Ave. Assistant hostesses Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Ham.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Centenary Church will be postponed one week.

CHICAGO SOLDIERS TO FORM DUNNE'S ESCORT

Seven Hundred Men of First Regiment to Accompany Governor to Exposition.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—Seven hundred men of the First Regiment, Chicago, will form Governor Dunne's guard of honor at the Panama Pacific International exposition. Col. J. B. Sanborn will be in command. The First is expected to reach San Francisco July 22, after detouring many times on the way across the continent to parade and "be entertained by the members of the National Guard of other states. Incidentally Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson had to secure permission from the authorities of all the states through which their regiment will pass before the trip finally was arranged.

It would be considered quite as serious a breach of military etiquette for soldiers of Illinois to march into Iowa without permission as it would be for soldiers of Mexico to march into Texas.

Governor Dunne and his party leave Chicago for San Francisco on July 15th but will not arrive in San Francisco until July 23. He will be met at the Ferry dock in San Francisco and escorted to the fair grounds by one of his own regiments. It is believed he will be the only visiting governor who will have such an imposing guard. The regiment is paying its own way, too. Each individual contributed a share of the money necessary and a deficit was made up from the regimental fund.

In Governor Dunne's party will be: Mrs. Dunne, the Misses Eileen, Mona and Geraldine Dunne, Maurice Dunne; Senator and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis; the secretary of state and Mrs. Lewis G. Stevenson and daughter and son; Auditor Jas. J. Brady; State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair and Mrs. Blair; Attorney General Lucey and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Karpen; Mr. and Mrs. William Tilden; Secretary to the Governor William L. Sullivan; General and Mrs. Frank S. Dickson; Colonel S. O. Tripp; Col. Edwin Romberg, Col. and Mrs. M. R. Kelly; Col. Jas. K. Finn, Col. and Mrs. Jacob Frank. Mr. Karpen and Mr. Tilden are members of the Illinois commission to the Panama Pacific International exposition. The wives of the state officials, except the military are being sent by the state. Governor Dunne is paying for his children's trip out of his own pocket. The party will travel in two Pullmans, one of which will be a compartment car and the other a "hotel" car. The party will return to Chicago, August 3, after visiting the San Diego exposition.

IN MEMORY OF MARTIN GOVEIA.

Call not back the dear departed
Anchored safe where storms are
On the border land we left him,
Son to meet and part no more.
When we leave this world of care,
We shall find our missing loved one
In our Father's mansion fair.

Earth has lost its look of gladness;
Heaven seems to us more bright
Since the spirit of our loved ones
Took their happy homeward flight;

And we long to cross that river,
Long to rest upon that shore,
There to see and know and love
With the Savior evermore.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low;
Thou no more wilt join our number,
Thou no more our sorrows know.

Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled,
And in heaven with joy to greet thee.
Where no farewell tears are shed.

A Friend.

GERMANS STILL FIGHTING EXPORTATION OF ARMS

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—A giant meeting of representatives of all German and Austrian church, social, fraternal and political societies will be held here today, to discuss how to stop the sale of arms to belligerent nations. A temporary political organization of all German, Austrian and Hungarian societies will be formed to compel President Wilson, if possible, to place an embargo on the export of arms and ammunition. Among the distinguished Germans invited to talk are George S. Viereck, the poet, Prof. Edmund von Mach of Harvard, Dr. C. J. Hexamer of the German-American alliance and Congressman Richard P. Bartholdt of Missouri.

It is the sentiment of the leaders in the movement that strength only commands respect, and that only by showing a united front for the millions of Germans and Austrians can the supplies for the Allies be stopped.

GARIBOLDI DAY IN ITALY.

Rome, July 3.—The celebration of the birthday of Garibaldi, the maker of modern, united Italy, will be a national event tomorrow, and will be more enthusiastic than ever before. The day is sacred to Italians, for Giuseppe Garibaldi, the liberator, was the son of a simple fisherman at Nice, a man of the people.

ALTON WILL SEEK TO SECURE MORE TENANTS

Road's Traffic Officials Believe Business Can Be Increased by Efforts to Utilize More Land.

From a letter addressed to agents of The Chicago & Alton Railroad by its chief traffic officials, the Chicago & Alton is not going to be satisfied or contented with simply taking at least its share or more of the business which is now moving, but intends by intensive industrial development to create traffic, securing not only the additional revenue on the new traffic but also materially increasing its revenue by the rent paid by new tenants.

Mr. Jones, an agent of the Chicago & Alton, received in his mail recently a letter impressing upon him the importance of helping "return of prosperity" by securing at least one new tenant for Company ground which was now going tenantless, calling his attention to the fact that it is the industrial towns and cities which thrive and grow and the necessary forms and blanks containing full instructions accompanied the letter, so that he would be in a position to handle all the preliminaries promptly on the ground. The idea, however, was not to stop here, but to attempt to secure new industries as well as to get the industries now on the right-of-way to increase their output either by the intensification of former methods or the improvement of old processes.

This action on the part of the Alton Company indicates that the new management is not going to overlook any opportunity to increase the earnings of the road and feels that by having the full co-operation of the local force at each of its stations, and everybody pulling together that much good can be accomplished, not only for the "Only Way" but for the communities served by its line.

BRONCHO BUSTER ON THE LOVE TRAIL.

Louisville, Ky., July 3.—The town of Sparta, Ky., is on the watch for "Ranger Bill" Miller, who is due to arrive tomorrow or Monday on his faithful broncho from the Rocky mountains to claim his bride, Miss Madelyn Stoner, a Kentucky belle, is the "maverick" over whom he will try to "drop the lariat" on his arrival. Ranger Bill has been traveling across country since April on his cow pony, White Eagle. In full panoply of cowboy attire he started on the long trail, and frequent reports of his progress have reached the girl who is in waiting for him. It was she who named the conditions of the agreement to wed, by which he was to prove his worth. And so Ranger Bill and his trusty horse have managed to hold to the long trail and will arrive unless accident overtakes them. The waiting bride wanted her wedding to be romantic. It surely will be, for the whole town will celebrate the arrival of the woolly man from the west and will give the newly-weds a rousing send-off. To cap the romance, it is announced that the bride and groom will continue the trail eastward, mounted on ponies, and will go to New York to see the "Great White Way."

CUBS AND PIRATES SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

CHICAGO TAKES FIRST GAME 6 TO 5.

Poor Base Running and Poor Coaching Prevent Pittsburgh From Taking Second By Score of 4 to 2.

Chicago, July 3.—Chicago and Pittsburgh broke even in a double header today, the locals taking the first 6 to 5 while they lost the second 2 to 4. The first game contained plenty of hits by both teams, but Chicago's were more valuable, because they followed bases on balls.

For base running and poor coaching prevented the visitors from winning this game.

A Dream Story of the Purchase Of the Siloam Springs Property

We wonder if dreams come true. Some reporter had a beautiful dream in Quincy the other day. His dream came out in the Quincy Herald of July 1. Dreams are wonderful things and if one can stay asleep long enough one can dream almost anything.

This dream of the Quincy reporter was in connection with the purchase of Siloam Springs by William E. McKinley and Thomas Taggart of Indiana. A few days ago these gentlemen were credited with purchasing these springs, which are located in Pike county, and paying $47,000 for them. The Quincy reporter added Roger Sullivan for good measure as one of the purchasers. This probably will prevent William J. Bryan from ever stopping at the springs, no matter what inducements are offered.

This dream, aside from the erection of a magnificent hotel and the laying out of golf links and other forms of amusement, contemplates the building of an interurban railroad from Quincy to Peoria.

This leads us to rise up and ask why Peoria? The way for an interurban to be built from Quincy is from that city to Jacksonville and then to Springfield. Then if any one wants to go to Peoria they can go from Springfield. Jacksonville is an ideal place to put on an interurban line. Even now many of its citizens make frequent pilgrimages to Quincy, Peoria and Springfield. If we had an interurban there is no telling to what proportions the business might grow. Then, also, many people want to visit Jacksonville. Each year we have many people journey to Jacksonville to see what a really beautiful city looks like. With an interurban there would be double the number of people visiting this, the best city in the state. But what is the use of talking? If an interurban is built from Quincy it will come through Jacksonville. The dream of the Quincy Herald reporter is given below. Read it and reflect:

An interurban assured from Quincy to Peoria; a branch line running from south of Clayton to Siloam Springs; a new resort at the latter place, with magnificent hotel, drives, golf links, lake, baths and all the accessories of the famous watering places of America. All these things are within the range of immediate possibilities and are assuming daily the aspect of true possibilities.

To Build Road.

Last night saw the completion of a deal whereby Patrick Hirsch, representing Talbot & Co., contractors, agreed to take over the Chicago, Peoria and Quincy Traction company and build the road. The proposition offered includes the buying of the bonds and the construction of the road on an equitable basis and with the backing of a huge and reliable bonding and contracting company behind every move.

AUTO WORLD.

Automobile industry 25 years old. "Just twenty-three years ago Edwood Haynes started the actual construction of the 'horseless carriage'—the little machine that gave birth to the American automobile industry," states A. Q. Seiberling, general manager of the Haynes Automobile company, Kokomo, Ind. "The first public appearance of the Pioneer car was on the Fourth of July, 1894, when it ran for about three miles on the country roads near Kokomo, Indiana, at a speed of between six and seven miles an hour. The original Haynes car was equipped with a one-cylinder motor. But the one car was built during the first 'season.' The Pioneer car is now in the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., as a national exhibit. "In 1895 a two-cylinder Haynes was entered in the Chicago Times-Herald contest and won the first prize of $150 for having the best balanced motor. Fifty cars were built in 1898, in spite of the warnings of advisers that the horseless carriage was only a passing fancy for the rich. The market did not appear to be oversupplied by the end of the year and a greater production was planned for the following season.

Auto Business Thrives.

Bankers in Chicago and New York have predicted complete restoration of business prosperity to normal conditions in this country. Only last week, at the annual meeting of the trust companies of the state of New York, held in New York City, there were expressions of confidence and optimism in the immediate improvement in financial conditions here, where business suffered almost as badly as it did in Europe. Unusually prosperous crops and the European demand for American products were the chief reasons advanced for the change of heart by the men who know the pulse of American business better than any other set of men in the country.

The spirit of the New York men was to reassure people of this country that now was the opportune time to cut the strings on the bank roll that has been sewed up almost since the beginning of the European conflict.

That the country has responded to the advice of "big business" is evidenced better in the automobile business, which was one of the first to suffer in this country, than any other. So far this spring automobile makers and dealers say that their business is equally as good as it has ever been in a corresponding season of any year. One company particularly—the Packard—is experiencing a boom that foreshadows one of the best years in the history of the concern.

The announcement by this com-

Included in the new proposition is the established fact of a branch line to be built from a point south of Clayton to Siloam Springs. The springs have been purchased by Thomas Taggart, William McKinley, Roger Sullivan and a number of prominent eastern capitalists. The complete story of the change destined to come to the resort was told in the Herald June 23. These men are not playing with a $47,000 purchase. They mean business. The fact that William McKinley is in the corporation is an assurance of railroad facilities for the spring. Whether he is connected with the Hirsch proposition or will take up with the building of the C. P. and Q. is not confirmed, but such are the possibilities.

The proposition of acquiring the road was originally made to the Wolf-Teitel company, stock promoters of the road, and last night was taken up by the board of directors who recently have wound up the affairs of the road with the Chapman company, original managers of the road. Mr. Hirsch is acting in behalf of the company he represents and of which he is a member.

Take All the Bonds.

They agree to take all the bonds necessary to build the road at 75 per cent without commission. After the first $30,000 has been delivered and paid in, the traction company has the right to sell higher than 75 if possible.

The first $300,000 are already sold and includes the first section where work has been started on the Peoria end. As soon as the papers are signed the work on that end will be continued by the contractors. They agree that the first section shall be completed in six months, and this will mean a road as far as Canton or Lewistown.

Peoria is now ready with the stock subscriptions and the road will be built on a 50-50 basis, half and half in bonds and stocks. The rest of the road after the first section will be built on a 60-40 basis. If the Quincy to Rushville section is ready work will commence at the Quincy end to Timewell, thence to Rushville. The road may or may not run to Mt. Sterling. There is a short cut of six miles which the road may take.

All Secured.

This company has the money ready to meet their 50 per cent and have agreed to execute bonds to the traction company secured by any surety company the directors may select, for carrying out their proposition of taking the bonds and building the road on the terms specified. The C. P. and Q. has its line surveyed south of Clayton to Siloam Springs, about 8 miles, included in their contract. There is undoubtedly more back of the purchase of Siloam Springs than mere talk and the possibilities for both the C. P. and Q. and the resort are very large.

pany of its new "Twin Six" was concrete proof that business men were no longer soaking their money away, for after the first announcement of this new car, which the makers believe marks an epoch in automobile manufacturing that will make the car of yesterday obsolete over night, over one-third of the contemplated output was actually sold to customers without the buyers even knowing what the price would be.

In Chicago, where the new "Twin Six" was on exhibition last week, the actual orders taken in two days were in excess of any previous selling the Packard agency experienced since its establishment. This would seem to indicate that Chicago business men were in no way fearful or apprehensive about future business here by reason of the war.

100,000 ITALIAN-AMERICANS OFF TO EUROPEAN WAR.

Greeks in America Impatient for Chance to Fight Turks.

New York, July 3.—A hundred thousand Italian-Americans, some of whom are reservists in the Italian army, are answering the call of the mother country, and already several thousand sons of Italy are on the high seas bound for the war. It is estimated it will take nearly all summer to secure accommodations for the men aboard the ships bound for the Mediterranean. They are an eager lot, according to all reports, and many of them have never had military experience.

It is said that Italy will use the contingent from America in the reserve forces, which are now being recruited rapidly. The reservists will have the first call for actual service at the front, while the recruits are being put through the necessary course of training.

Parades of the volunteers are being held in all the big cities of the East where the Italian quarters are gay with the flag of the mother country. The enthusiasm of the Italian colonies knows no bounds, and the men who are to go to the front are veritable heroes.

It is said that the Greeks of this country are impatient for a chance to enlist. The old hatred of the Turk burns steadily among the half million of Greeks along the Atlantic seaboard. When the Graeco-Bulgarian war broke out some years ago, the Greeks flocked back to the standard by the thousands from the United States, and they maintain an organization in America which is ready to send 100,000 men in short notice to aid King Constantine if he is forced by popular demand to throw his country into the war on the side of the Allies. It is the belief of the leaders of the American Greeks that such an action would heal much of the friction that remains among the Balkan states, and would push the Turks beyond reach of the Mediterranean.

ENGLISH POET IS SUED BY A WOMAN

Arrest'd at a Harvard Banquet—
Claim is Based on Alleged Services as Lecture Bureau Manager.

Boston, July 3.—That the ways to literary fame are still rough and stormy, as in the days of Milton and his "Paradise Lost," is the opinion of Alfred Noyes, the English poet who was arrested at Harvard last week after delivering the Phi Beta Kappa poem to the great scholars of the East, in a civil suit brought by a woman manager of the lecture bureau. The papers in the case are returnable tomorrow, and it is expected at Harvard that some adjustment of the case will be announced.

Mrs. Alexina C. Barrell, the woman who brought the suit, says she took action because she believed the poet had not treated her just right. She declared Noyes had come to Boston "helpless as a babe in the woods," and added:

"I had to arrange social entertainments for him, have his baggage checked, arrange for his taxi across Boston, and have taken him to Wellesley and to various functions, often at my expense. In spite of this, Mr. Noyes did everything possible to exclude me.

"He came here from New York in an upper berth on a sleeper. I sent him back on the boat, with a stateroom, at my own expense. Long before he came I had made elaborate arrangements for his lectures. I secured engagements for him that crowded out other distinguished persons. The amount for which I am suing, $1,600, will never recompense me for my services to Mr. and Mrs. Noyes. I am prosecuting him as a matter of principle."

The arrest of the poet created a sensation at the Harvard commencement. There was nothing spectacular about the arrest, but it shocked those who had listened to the learned poem the Englishman delivered to learn that the poet had been arrested as he left Sanders Theatre.

Lubricating Troubles —and their cure!

The Standard Oil Company is making a motor oil that has done away with all common lubricating troubles.

Seven years ago their experts placed this new but tested oil on the market. 1,100 gallons were sold the first year. Then motorists found it out.

1909's demand was for 335,000 gallons—1910's was for 1,118,400. In 1914 nearly 7,000,000 gallons were used in the Middle West alone.

Polarine has gained in sales an average of a million gallons yearly simply because its use eliminated the annoyance and delays incident to unsuitable lubricating oils. Hundreds of thousands of good cars have been saved from the scrap heap by its use. Use it in your motor. See what it does.

Polarine maintains the correct lubricating body at every motor speed and temperature.

It is produced by experts, with the help of perfect facilities, in the largest plant of its kind in the world.

Tires."

—Mr. Squeegie

A man is a good deal like a tire.

His greatness depends on the crowd he is in.

The really great man—the leader—literally has to meet all comers in the contest for public approval.

Any tire is the best tire in a crowd of inferiors.

But nowadays a tire has to be extraordinary if it is to make and hold a record for superior service and mileage economy.

It is the extraordinary quality of Diamond Tires that has given them their deserved pre-eminence.

Send for our book of letters from dealers who sold Diamond Tires in 1914.

It tells how more than 99 out of every 100 of the more than half a million Diamond Tires sold last year gave maximum service at minimum mileage cost.

It is yours for the asking.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

(By Howard T. Knapp.)

When Billy Be By Bo Bum reached the Green Forest he found Tinker Teedle Tee waiting for him by their favorite log in the shade of a big pine. The merry little elf was perched on a big toadstool, but when he saw Billy he spread his wings and flew to meet him.

"Now Tinker, you promised to tell me the rest of that story about the Spring Maiden," said Billy, as soon as they were seated on the log.

"So I did, so I did," replied Tinker. "But I forgot just where I stopped."

"Why, on the morning the Spring Maiden chased old Father Winter away to the North Pole, the little boy started out with his sled to coast down hill just once more. But the hill was bare and brown, and instead of snow, he found nothing but mud on the road."

"Oh, yes, I remember now," said Tinker. "Well, sir, when this little boy found the snow was all gone he was as mad as a wet hen."

"Oh, if I could only find one little patch of snow," he said. "I would gather it up and hide it away in the icehouse where it would be safe from the horrid old sun. Then I could make snowballs in the middle of summer."

"So he ran off to the woods to see if he could find some shady spot where the snow hadn't all melted. He hunted high and low, poking into all sorts of out of the way nooks and crannies, but nary a flake of snow could he find. You see, the Spring Maiden had been ahead of him and wherever he went he found the floor of the woods carpeted with grass and flowers. At last he came to a giant tree that had been blown down by some fierce storm. The briars and sassafras bushes grew so thick and close about it he could not see beneath the trunk of the fallen giant."

"Now surely," he said to himself, "the sunbeams could never find their way through this tangle and I am sure to find a little patch of snow snuggled down in the shelter of this old log."

"So he dropped to his hands and knees and crawled into the thicket. But when he peeped under the tree trunk, instead of snow he saw a clump of wood violets. He was so angry he crushed the fragrant blossoms in his hands and pulled them up by the roots. Then he jumped to his feet and there, not a dozen feet away, stood the Spring Maiden, her bright eyes flashing with anger. "So you are the Snow Seeker, the little boy who is so fond of winter that he goes around pulling up my flowers when he can't find any horrid snow to play in," she asked, and the little fellow was so frightened he couldn't say a word, but stood trembling until his teeth chattered.

"Then the Spring Maiden strode toward him, tossing her head until the golden hair was loosened and fell about her shoulders like a wave of sunshine. She leaned over the Snow Seeker until her hair covered him like a cloak. Then she shook her head again and a cloud of fairy dust sifted down onto the little boy, a magic powder so sweet and yet so strong the very smell of it made him weak and dizzy. He sneezed once, twice and again, and when he opened his eyes, the Spring Maiden was gone. So the Snow Seeker started for home, but he was now so tired and lazy that it seemed it would take him forever and a day to get there. For days and days he was so lazy and listless he didn't want to do anything but lay on the grass in the shade and listen to the birds sing and rest, just rest from morning until night."

"He had the Spring Fever, just as you have it now, for every year when the Spring Maiden passes through the woods and meadows she thinks of the Snow Seeker and how he pulled up her violets. Then she tosses her head and the magic dust floats down from her hair to be carried on the wings of the South Wind through the open windows of school houses. Little boys bending over their books breathe the magic dust and right away forget all about their lessons. They start wondering if the water is warm enough in the mill pond for swimming and whether the sunnies are biting."

"Isn't there any cure for the Spring Fever?" asked Billy.

"There surely is," replied Tinker. "A cure that never fails. You just run home to the woodshed and split a big armful of kindling and then see how you feel."

Billy did it, but long before he had finished he was whistling merrily and by the time he had filled the woodbox he had forgotten all about having Spring Fever.

"MORNING GLANCES"

(By Gosh.)

The Tigers again rubbed it into the White Sox on Saturday. The Tigers made piece meal out of Russell, Cioetto, Scott and Wolfgang. The final score of 9 to 4. The Sox made four runs in the first inning but that was all they got as Boland who relieved Cavet in the first inning held Rowland's team safe all the way. The Tigers got fourteen hits of which Vilt the lead off man got three.

In the American League the White Sox still remain in front although they are not so far in front as they were last week. The Boston Red Sox have been playing a great game and have retained the place position. The Detroit Tigers are in third place. The Tigers trimmed the White Sox yesterday and are not far behind the Red Sox. This surely is a great race and while the Sox are in front by a good margin they must keep moving all the time to keep out of the way of the Tigers and the Red Sox.

New York closely pressed by Washington is in fourth place. Cleveland, St. Louis and Philadelphia are still running in the order named.

The Cubs are still leading the National league race. The Cubs have been playing steady ball and so far have seemed to outclass the western teams. The only contender in the west is the Cardinals. This team, however fell down at the critical time in the series with the Cubs and Phillies have again gone back into the place position. The Phillies are a dangerous team with Alexander showing the greatest form of his career the Phillies are liable to give all teams a run for the flag. We say this because the class of pitchers in the old league does not seem to measure up to that of former years. The Pirates are fourth and the Champion Braves and Brooklyn are tied for fifth place while New York and Cincinnati bring up the rear. The Giants have been going good lately and as the race is close they may be able to get in the running before long.

In the Federal League the Kansas City team is still out in front. The Kaw Peds were fighting with St. Louis for first place last week. The Sloufeds, however, fell down the past week and while they are still in second place they have not gained anything. Chicago, Pittsburgh, Newark, Brooklyn, Buffalo and Baltimore are in the order named. It may surprise some people but the Buffalo team nosed the Terrapins out yesterday and got off the bottom. The Buffeds are a good team and it need surprise no one to see them climb toward the top before the season closes.

The Pirates and Cubs broke even in a double header Saturday. Chicago won the first game 6 to 5 while the Pirates got the second game by a score of 4 to 2.

Honus Wagner did not get a hit in the first game. Doug Baird formerly with Springfield got a hit and had one putout and six assists without an error.

Artie Phelan got himself a triple in the first game with the Pirates. Phelan also got two runs, had three putouts, three assists and no errors.

The Braves and Phillies broke even in a double header Saturday. The Phillies won the first game through the pitching of Rixey who allowed the Braves but five hits and one run. In the second game George Fyler the Braves southpaw held the Phillies to four hits and the Braves won 5 to 3.

The Dodgers and Giants also divided a double header. The Dodgers won the first game 2 to 1 while the Giants took the second 4 to 3. Brooklyn made all of her runs in the ninth inning but could not quite win.

Harry Clark catcher of the Eagles has been visiting the past two weeks with his friend, Samuel Henry, Jr., of Woodson.

Despite the fact that Walsh of Baltimore made home run with the bases packed in the first inning of the game with Buffalo the latter team came back and hit Suggs hard and finally won by a score of 9 to 4. McDonald and Engle also got home runs in this game.

The Red Sox and the Athletics divided a double header yesterday. The Athletics won the first game 7 to 3, but the Red Sox took the second game by a score of 11 to 0. Wood and Gregg holding the Athletics scoreless.

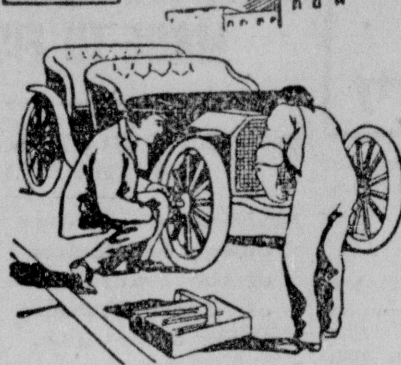

New York and Washington split even on a double header yesterday. The Senators won the first game by a score of 8 to 7. In the second game the Yanks won by a score of 4 to 1. Incidentally they beat the great Walter Johnson. Up to this game Johnson had pitched thirty consecutive innings without a score. New York broke his streak by making two runs in the first inning. Caldwell pitched a great game for New York.

The Stogies beat the Whales yesterday by a score of 6 to 3. The game was close until the eighth when the bases got filled and Lewis made a triple off of Hendrix and won the game.

St. Louis and Cleveland played a double header yesterday and divided honors. In the first game Sisler a recruit for pitched the Browns, in spite of the fact that he struck out nine men he gave nine bases on balls but he still won, the score being 3 to 1. Cleveland won the second game by a score of 5 to 1. Hornstad held the Browns to five hits.

PIMENTO CHEESE CAN BE MADE IN THE FARM KITCHEN

Is a Brand Very Popular for Picnics and Like Occasions — Whole Milk Best for the Purpose.

(By C. R. Nickolls, student class of 1916, University of Illinois—Article II.)

In a previous article we discussed precautions that must be observed in making a good and desirable product. We also described how cottage cheese is made.

Pimento cheese is a very popular cheese for picnics and similar uses. Whole milk is used in making the best pimento cheese, but a satisfactory product may be made from skim milk. Its desirability depends on the body and flavor, which must be of the best. In order to secure a uniform body and flavor the milk is pasteurized by heating to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for thirty minutes and then cooling to 72 degrees. Starter is added at the rate of 1 to 5 per cent, or one-half pint to one quart for each five gallons of milk. Rennet extract is used in this method and it is added at the rate of one to two drops for each gallon of milk. The rennet should first be diluted in a glass of cold water. When the starter and rennet have been thoroughly stirred in, the milk is set aside for twelve to twenty-four hours at a temperature of 72 degrees. It is poured when the curd has coagulated and the whey begins to form on the outside, experience being the guide for this, as with the cottage. The curd is allowed to stay in the cheesecloth bag until all excess whey is drained off. It is then run through a meat grinder, salt being added at this time at the rate of two to two and one-half ounces the grinder before adding the pimentos are added at the rate of one quart of pimentos to each fifteen pounds of curd. The amount of pimentos may be varied to suit the individual taste. Neither is it always necessary to run the curd through the grinder before adding the pimentos. The mixing may be done with a ladle of the pimentos and curd may be run through the grinder together. Pimento cheese may be sold in bulk or in mono-service cups, but preferably in standard pimento jars holding four ounces each. This makes a very attractive package. A one-third pint jelly glass, holding 5 to 6 ounces, may be used.

COUNTY AGENTS WANTED—The Meyers Auto Tire Safety Valve stops the trouble—the demand for new tires. We're talking to you, now. We may not prove popular with tire manufacturers, but our valve will fit anybody's tire. You want the tire to last. You may have the most expensive car on the market, but when your tires go wrong, joy ceases.

Hundreds of inventions are for betterment and pleasure of motoring, but the Meyers Auto Tire Safety Valve is the first practical one for regulation of pressure. It means exactly to an auto what a safety valve means to a locomotive, thrasher engine, or any other container of high fluctuating pressure. The principle, the valve, the material and the results are the same. It takes care of over-inflation by carelessness in pumping up, and high pressure from heat and friction. It prolongs the life of new tires and insures the old ones. It saves you time, money and patience and does more toward reducing your upkeep than any other invention of the automobile age. Exclusive county contracts let to wide-awake men. For information address J. P. Coley, Streator, Illinois. 7-4-15

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

HEDGING ON BROAD SCALE GIVES WHEAT DOWNWARD SWING
ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE MORGAN BRINGS TEMPORARY SETBACK

Wheat Begins to Recede in Value Almost as Soon as Trading Begins and Does Not at Any Time Show Decided Power to Rally.

Chicago, July 3.—Hedging on a somewhat broad scale to anticipate liberal new crop arrivals expected by Tuesday gave a downward swing today to the wheat market here. Prices closed heavy at 1c to 2 1/2c under last night. Corn suffered a loss of 1/2c to 3/4c net and oats of 1/2c to 3/4c.

The finish in provisions ranged from 12 1/2c decline to a rise of 2 1/2c. Wheat began to recede in value almost as soon as trading began and did not at any time show decided power to rally. Threshing was reported to have become general in southern Illinois and there were predictions that if the weather held good the amount of offerings by Tuesday would be likely to swamp dealers. A similar forecast in regard to Indiana counted further against the bulls. In addition, prospects were said to be flattering for a big yield in the spring crop belt. Announcements were made, too, that a Baltimore exporter was cancelling purchases and that as much as 250,000 bushels had been re-sold for his account.

Reductions in premiums for cash wheat were so sharp as to attract considerable attention. As compared with the July price, the rate for No. 2 hard was fully 4 cents lower than yesterday. Transactions in No. 2 red equally demonstrated that recent fear of a threatened shortage in supplies here had to a great extent already faded away.

Favorable weather and crop reports tended to ease off the corn market. Some notice was taken also of the chance of a surplus this season in the southern states. Oats followed the action of other grains. News from the harvest fields was optimistic, barring a few complaints about conditions in Illinois. Provisions averaged lower with hogs and grain.

DUNNE SOON TO NAME WATERWAY COMMISSIONERS

New Law Provides for Appointment of Five at Salary of $5000 Each—Southern Illinois Demands Representation.

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—Announcement of the governor's selections for membership on the Waterways commission, created by the recent session of the legislature, is expected to be made by Governor Dunne before he leaves for San Francisco. Under the provisions of the Waterway bill five members, at a salary of $5,000 a year each, are to be appointed by the governor, three of whom shall be democrats and two republicans. Already many applications for places on the commission have been received by the executive not to speak of those seeking minor positions in connection with the construction of the waterway.

Backers of at least three candidates for commissioner called upon Governor Dunne during the last week and urged the qualifications of their respective men. A big delegation from Peoria, asked that Hon. C. N. Barnes of that city be named as one of the commissioners. The delegation was headed by Representative Thomas N. Gorman and included Joseph A. Well, John O'Brien and Daniel J. Cogan. Letters in support of Mr. Barnes' candidacy were presented from Edward McCabe, internal revenue collector, Attorney Frank J. Quinn, Samuel Woolner, Jr., and Congressman Claude U. Stone.

H. B. Morgan, also of Peoria, and who is "running" against Barnes for the place, also called upon the governor and laid before him a large number of letters recommending his appointment.

Southern Illinois is demanding a place on the commission and there is no doubt but that Governor Dunne will heed the request. In naming the member from the southern part of the state the governor will be guided largely by the recommendations of the three senators from that section of the state who supported the bill, thereby helping to make the construction of the waterway possible. These are Senators J. A. Womack of Equality; J. Jeff Tossey, Toledo; and Kent E. Keller, Ava.

AMERICANIZATION DAY.

Country Wide Welding of the Races
on the Fourth.

The Fourth of July of 1915 will be notable for the great spontaneous movement to dedicate the event to the Americanization of the immigrant. From the Atlantic to the Pacific public meetings will be held in every city, receptions to newcomers will extend the cordial fellowship of Americanism, and from thousands of pulpits tomorrow the American ideals will be expounded and American unity urged.

Never since the foundation of the United States of America has the people risen as on this July Fourth to the recognition of "America First" as a fundamental basis for the preservation of our ideals. From all ranks and races of men that make up the great American republic comes the spontaneous patriotic outburst which unites the people as never before.

The new citizens will be greeted with genuine warmth in every city of the Union. The immigrant finds this year a hearty welcome to the land of freedom from despotism. He is more eager than ever to grasp the spirit of the new nationality in the new land. The native born Americans find a strengthening of their own spirit of nationality in this process of Americanization.

The awakening has been long in coming. For a century the flow of immigrants has been filling the cities and the plains, and the country has expanded to a population of over a hundred millions. Heretofore the public school system has borne the brunt of Americanization, while the adult immigrant was neglected. American ideals have been unknown to many who crossed the seas seeking a livelihood under American freedom. In the new land there has been no hearty greeting; competition of labor brought success only by hard work in factories, mines and workshops; the immigrant was a thing to be despised, and he lived in the seclusion of his fellow countrymen's headquarters, speaking the old language and carrying out the old customs and habits.

The immigrant has come into his own on the Fourth of July this year. The American nation has awakened to his importance as a factor in the future of the country. He is today a man, a future citizen, another step in the firm foundation of the great republic.

The theme of the speakers who will address the thousands of meetings of new citizens tomorrow and Monday will be "America First"—the fact that the new resident is given the great liberties of the country in exchange for the labor and the patriotism of the newcomer. It will be emphasized that every foreign speaking person should learn English as the master key to American opportunities and American life and the first step to real citizenship; that every illiterate immigrant should learn to read and write, so that he may absorb the principles of American government and realize the responsibility of citizenship in the new land.

CREX
GRASS RUGS
TRADE MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

In buying CREX "don't be Sold"

When you ask for a CREX rug be sure you get one. "Be from Missouri"—make the salesman show the name CREX on the side binding. If it isn't there it isn't a CREX. If it isn't a CREX you are being cheated.

Substitutes are sold—and so are the purchasers. When a dealer tries to sell you another grass rug as being "just as good," it is because he is making a larger profit on an inferior article.

CREX was the first wire-grass rug made and is still first in durability, beauty and sanitary perfection. Clean, cool, inexpensive—yet always dependable.

Holds no dirt nor germs. Needs no beating—simply shaking. Made in a variety of artistic designs and colors, and in various sizes.

BEWARE OF ALL SUBSTITUTES. Shun the cheap Japanese rugs of questionable sanitation; they have been aptly called the "yellow peril."

CITY GOVERNMENT CHANGE BRINGS WIDE DISCUSSION

First Result of Circulating Petition Is to Hold Up All Financial and Betterment Plans.

The petitions to secure signatures of voters who wish to have the question of a return to the aldermanic form of government submitted to the people were placed in circulation yesterday by William N. Hairgrove. Quite a number of signatures were secured and it is Mr. Hairgrove's intention not only to have petitions circulated but also to place them in stores or offices where voters may sign at their convenience.

Neither the mayor nor commissioners had any statement for publication about the proposed election but made no secret that they regretted the action at this time. They evidently have a feeling that they are just getting a start on their administration and that the movement to change back to the old form of government means a chaotic condition until the question is settled. The first effect of the movement is to set aside the present government plan was the announcement that no further payment of back indebtedness could be made and that no plans for the future involving the expenditure of money could be considered. In the street discussion of the matter various theories were advanced by citizens as to the causes leading up to the movement at this time. Only one thing seems certain and that is that city's affairs are at a standstill pending the result of the petition.

Keep cool in one of Garland & Co.'s palm beach suits.

INTERESTING PICTURES.

In the window of the Farmers' Bank and Trust Co. are 29 pictures which are unusually interesting. They are nearly all in colors and represent the different uniforms worn by the soldiers of this country from the earliest date down to the time of the Civil war. The plates are about 14 inches square and are arranged so that all can easily be seen and they are of much historical interest. They were prepared by the government at a large expense and hence are accurate. The cocked hats and knee breeches of our forefathers look very strange now and lace and gaudy colors and the epaulettes, the old-fashioned goods of all kinds contrast rather strikingly with the neat and natty khaki uniforms of the present day.

NOTICE.

The public is hereby warned against the discharge of fire crackers and fire arms before July 4th. The ordinance governing the matter will be strictly enforced.

George P. Davis, Chief of Police.

The machine is guaranteed to remove 200 yards of dirt per day and under favorable conditions will remove 500 yards. Mr. Harney has the machine on exhibition back of the city hall.

He divides his time between this city and his winter home and has many friends in both places. Held on Lawn of the Residence of A. W. Peteñish—Interesting Program Given, Closing with Fine Display of Fireworks.

The annual picnic of Literberry young people, given Saturday at the home of A. W. Peteñish proved to be one of the most happy occasions in the social life of that community.
